The ASPCA Awards $30,000 Grant to Bark Avenue Foundation To Fight Pet Overpopulation through Spay/Neuter Program

Studio City, CA – Bark Avenue Foundation today announced it has been awarded a $30,000 grant from The ASPCA (The American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) to facilitate spay/neuter mobile clinics for dogs and cats in Los Angeles County.

Bark Avenue Foundation hosts monthly mobile spay/neuter clinics throughout Los Angeles County providing low-cost and free services to pet owners. “The cost of fixing a pet is prohibitive for many pet owners resulting in accidental litters and animals surrendered to municipal shelters,” said Bark Avenue Foundation Founder Melanie Pozez.

“The current situation for pets in Los Angeles is dire and can only be truly addressed through spay/neuter efforts which is why Bark Avenue Foundation focuses on providing this much-needed service to the community,” said Pozez. Since 2004, Bark Avenue Foundation has spayed/neutered over 25,000 pets throughout Los Angeles and the surrounding area.

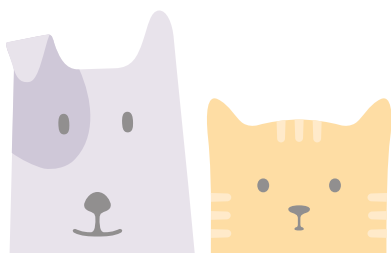

“We thank the ASPCA for this generous funding, which will provide spay/neuter surgeries throughout Los Angeles County and save the lives of so many animals,” said Pozez.
